

September 13, 2017, Prime Minister Shinzo Abe visits India.

On September 13, 2017 (local time), Prime Minister Shinzo Abe visited Gujarat Sta in India. In Ahmadabad, Prime Minister Abe visited Sabarmati Ashram, a former residence of Mahatma Gandhi. Afterwards, he visited Sidi Saiyyed Mosque.

The following day on September 14 (local time), Prime Minister Abe attended a groundbreaking ceremony of the high-speed rail project in Ahmadabad, and then visited Dandi Kutir, a museum dedicated to Mahatma Gandhi in Gandhinagar. Later, Prime Minister Abe held talks with H.E. Mr. Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India, along with a signing ceremony for a joint statement, and a joint press announcement. Following this, Prime Minister Abe observed a Shinkansen simulator, and then attended the India Japan Business Plenary.

【Prime Minister Abe shake hands with Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India】

To attract tourists from India, the seminar sponsored by JETRO (Japan External Trade Organization) and “Visit Japan Campaign” by JNTO (Japan National Tourism Organization) were held. Photo at the seminar.

They inspected (or visited) exhibition in JNTO.

From the left; Kenichi Takano Director of Delhi office, JNTO / Akihiko Tamura Commissioner of the Japan Tourism Agency / Shinzo Abe Prime Minister of Japan / Narendra Modi Prime Minister of India / Ryuko Hira President of HMI Hotel Group